The finality of the Office action dated July 18, 2007 is hereby removed so that a new rejection can be made.

Claims 9, 16, 18 and 24 are presented for examination.

Applicants' response and terminal disclaimer filed August 15, 2007 have been received and entered.

Accordingly, the rejection made under obviousness-type double patenting as set forth in the previous Office action dated July 18, 2007 is hereby withdrawn because the applicants filed a terminal disclaimer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 16 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Meguro et al. (4,687,777) in Windholz et al. (PTO-1449).

Meguro et al. teach thiazolininedione derivatives useful and antidiabetic agents (see the abstract). Note column 10, claim 2 teaches the applicants preferred active agent 5-{4-[2-(5-ethyl-2-pyridyl)ethoxy]benzyl}-2,4-thiazolidinedione, hereby known as pioglitazone.

The instant invention differs from the cited reference in that the cited reference does not teach the pioglitazone is used to improve and treat acidosis. However, one skilled in the art would have been motivated to improve or treat acidosis since acidosis is considered to be one complication associated with diabetes in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

The instant invention differs from the cited reference in that the cited reference does not teach the addition of insulin with pioglitazone. However, the secondary reference, Windholz et al., disclose insulin as a well-known compound used to treat diabetes and complications associated with diabetes.

Clearly, the combination of the two compounds into a single composition would give an additive effect in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Claims 16 and 24 are not allowed.
